Personality Traits:

Example of Trait	Name of Trait	Description of Trait
	Domineering	down slanted 't'-bar - in control and likes it – blunt ending is dominant - pointed end is domineering: sarcasm, whining, griping, possibly cruel if not getting their way
	Hot temper	T-bar crossed on the right side of the stem. If it shows up often, they are easily irritated and likely to lose control of their emotions. If combined with a heavy right-handed slant, they will blow up quickly
	Issues with the opposite sex	A stinger-like hook in the c, d or a. This person has an anger at strong members of the opposite sex, while only being attracted to those who are a challenge. Once this person feels in control of the relationship, he/she will become bored.
